The hiking area Hoksent-Molhem is located near Nationaal Park Bosland. The green route is the Dommeldalroute. And it has earned its name: along this route, you fully discover the unique, valuable nature of the Dommel valley.

This is a stream valley, after rain many paths are muddy. Sturdy footwear, boots, and an adventurous spirit are recommended. A part of the green route is flooded during prolonged wet periods. You can shorten the route on site and follow the local signage 'dry feet alternative' along the public road.
